RESIDENTIAL TRAIN, en route to San José, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Under soggy, leaden skies, the President continued his triumphant tour to the northward this morning. An "old inhabitant" said this morning that yesterday (Sunday) was the first time the sun had shone for three weeks, and he thought the Almighty had been mighty good to the President in giving such a parfect day. The President and party siept in the hotel last night, and reached their train shortly before $ o'clock.

made a short talk to the students and professors, and then began the most unpleasant experience the party has had since it reached California. The roads had not been sprinkled, and the dust was at least two inches deep over every inch of the ten or more miles of country roads. A squad of mounted men preceded the procession, and the dust they kicked up was frightful. A good breeze carried it back through the column and blinded and choked every one from the President down. If it was the intention to have the President and party see the surrounding country on this drive, it was a woeful failure, on account of the clouds of dust.

was a woeful failure, on account of the clouds of dust.

A short stop was made at Caldwell, where the President made a few remarks. At 6:15 o'clock the party returned to the train, thoroughly tred out and disgusted with the wearisome, unpleasant ride. It was originally intended to have the President and party dine and spend the evening at the Hotel Vendome in San José, but on account of the very strenuous times of the preceding three days this was changed, and the train was taken four miles out of the city to enable the President to get a good night's rest.

Returns to the statistician of the Department of Agriculture, made up to May 1, show the area under winter wheat in outivation at that date to have been about 33,107,000 acres. This is 984,000 acres, or 2.5 per cent. less than the area sown last fall, and 4,855,000 acres, or 15.8 per cent. in excess of the winter wheat harvested last year. The percentage of abandoned acreage in all the important winter-wheat growing States is unusually small, including the area to be cut for hay, reaching 100,000 acres only in Kansas, Texas and California.

For the area remaining under cultivation, the average condition May 1 was $2.6, against a condition of 97.3 for the total area sown reported April 1, 1903, and 76.4 May 1, 1902; 94.1 at the corresponding date in 1901, and the mean of the averages for the last ten years for the areas remaining under cultivation May 1. About Eight Thousand Tour-. ists Leave New York by Special Trains.

SAN FRANCISCO. May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Bakersfield "oil crowd" here have become much perturbed because of the alleged failure of the Standard Oil Company's pipe line from the Kern county field to Point Richmond. Some are convinced that the pipe line will spout oil from its bay terminus successfully, if the Standard people so desire, and that they give out reports of failure for the purpose of depressing the price of land in Kern.

The capacity of the pipe was intended to be 16,000 barrels a day, and this amount withdrawn from the crude market and disposed of in reducerism would have had a very beneficial effect of the price of the product used for fuel and road-making.

Just a hint of this resulted from Britain's action in the Newchwang incident, but the inference was so startling that higher officials refused to entertain it. Yet they were greatly supprised at the unconcern with which Britain viewed affairs. Britain gave her Japanese ally only the weakent kind of moral support, and tried to induce the United States to drag British chestnuts out of the Manchurian fire. They think the Russians did reoccupy Newchwang, as was stated in the press dispatches and confirmed by Consul Miller. Only on the theory that Great Britain has come to a full understanding with Russia and France can they account for the remarkable report credited to the British Consul at Newchwang.

Despite repeased denials, Russia's designs on Manchuria are well understood, and it is surmised that when the proper time comes, Russia will assert her sovereignty over Manchuria, with perhaps more of the northern part.

PIRATE GENTRY.

HELD UP AT SEVENTH AND MOORE LAST NIGHT.

Robbery Occurred After Eleven o'clock and Was Conducted in the Usual Fashion-Victim Rad no Money and Was Turned Loose.

Peter J. Marcovich, an employé of H. Raphael Company, who rooms at No. 233 South Main street, was held up by two highwaymen near the corner of Seventh and Moore streets at 11:29 o'clock last night, and but for the fact that he had seen the robbers and prepared for them he would have lost considerable money and a gold watch.

He had been on West Seventh street at the house of a friend and was returning home. As he approached Moore street he saw two men dart out from behind the trees and look up and down fhe street. At sight of him they sprang into cover again. He was perhaps 100 feet away from them, and taking his money from his pockets he placed it in his hat. Then he dropped his gold watch into his trouser leg, fastening the chain on his auspender. When he reached the appt where he had seen the two men disappear they aprang out and, covering him with revolvers, commanded him to throw up his hands. One of the robbers kept his gun pressed against Marcovich's head while the other searched him. All that they found was a sack of tobacco, and that they took. They began cursing him because he did not have money, but he told them he had left his cash in his room and was walking home because he did not have street-car fare. This seemed to natisfy them and they released him, saying if he looked back they would fill him full of lead.

Marcovich at once went to the Police Station, where he reported the matter to Desk Serg. Sparks and to Detectives Hawley and Murphy. The robbery had been committed under the glare of an electric light, and the victim was able to give the officers a good description of the men. Several officers went to that part of the city as soon as the report was received but the robbers had time the put miles between them and that place before Marcovich reached the station.

Soon after the appointment of the striking teamsters and waiters as deputy sheriffs, which was done against the salvice of the Chief of Police and President Martin of the Business Mens' Association, Chief Donahue began to get reports of the traitorous actions of the men. He made careful inquiry and found that the strike deputies in many instances used their positions to try and influence the non-union drivers and other employes to stop work and Join the union. they came back to work the following day, and there was an attack while they were on the wagons acting as guards, no assistance would be rendered, and the hope was expressed that the non-union drivers would have their beads beat off. This frightened the drivers so that they reported the matter to their employers, and in some cases quit work, and left the city.

The Chief stated that in case of trouble he feared if the strike deputies were allowed to retain their authority they would turn their revolvers on the non-union men, and officers who were trying to preserve law and order. He cited a number of cases where deputies secured names and addresses of non-union drivers while riding by their side as guards, and reported the same to strike leaders, who called at night on the drivers and threatened to do them harm if they did not leave their positions.

"I do not know that any of them would be disloyal to the government in case of a contlict, he says, "but it is best to not have them in a position where they might be required to choose between their unions and non-union ms."

The second effectual blow dealt the strikers was when T. J. Mahoney, at-torney for the Business Mens' Asso-ciation, applied to the District Court for an injunction restraining striking waiters from posting pickets in front of "unfair" restaurants, which desire to reopen at once. Equity Judges Bax-ter, Day and Dickinson took the matter under advisement and issued the or-der, made returnable May 25. In effect the order is about the same as that fasued by Federal Judge Munger against the teamsters. The restaurant men say they will pay the new scale, allow six days for a week, but will

More teams were upon the streets to-day than any day since the strike be-gan. Five carloads of imported drivday than any day since the strike began. Five carloads of imported drivers were brought in, but most of them have been persuaded to refuse to work. About fifty, however, started in this morning and worked all day. Each wagon was convoyed by a policeman or a deputy sheriff. No disturbance occurred. All told, about 100 transfer wagons were at work, and moved a large quantity of merchandise from the wholesale houses to the freight depots. A number of the office force of the jobbing houses continue to assist. At the freight depots the congestion is being much relieved. The places of the striking freight handlers at the Union Pacific and Buflington depots have been filled, and many men turned away who sought employment. Both depots are now run strictly non-union, and the railroad officials say will continue so in the future.

SANTA CLARA. May 11.—En route to Santa Cruz, in response to the demands of the assembled people, the President said:

"I do not come to each, I come here to learn. It has done me good to be in your State and to meet your people. Until last week I had never been in California, and I go back an even hetter American than I came, and I think I came out a fairly good one. Things that are truisms, that you expect as simply part of the natural order of events, need to be impressed upon our people as a whole. We need to understand the commanding position already occupied and the more commanding position that will be occupied by our nation on the Pacific. This, the greatest of all the oceans, is one which, during the century opening, must pass under American influence, and as inevitably happens when a great effort comes, it means that a great burden of responsibility accompanies the effort.

"A nation cannot be great without paying the price of greatness, and ture with the assured confidence of success if only we face it in the spirit in which our fathers faced the principms of the past." [Cheers and applause.]
only a craven nation will object to paying that price. I believe in you, my countrymen, I believe in you people, and therefore I believe that they will dare to be greater. Therefore, the believe that will dere to be greater. Therefore, the believe that they will dare to be greater. Therefore a mighty and masterful people to have. And we can confront the fu-

Preceded by the Naval Reserves and band, the procession moved slowly up Locust street to a special train. The Big Trees were reached in fifteen minutes, and the party sat down to al fresco lucheon. The pretitest young ladies waited on the table, and the Naval Reserves and officers acted as a guard. At the close of the repast the President said:

I desire to how tribute to the associations, private owner and State for preserving these trees, also citizens who acted in commenton, with the State in preserving these wonderful frees. Let me preach to you a moment. All of us desire to see nature preserved: above all, the trees should not be marred by placing cards or names on them. People who do that should be sternly discouraged. The cards give an air of ridicule to the solemn and majestic giants. They should be taken down. I sak you to keep all cards off of the trees, or any kind of signs that will mar them. See to it that the trees are preserved; that the gift from nature is kept unmarred. You can never replace a tree. Oh. I am pleased to be here among these wonderful redwoods. I thank you for giving me this enjoyment. Presserve and keep what nature has done."

HERFORD'S CHANGE OF HEART.

HE STANDS OFF BRITT.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Al Herford, who was breaking his neck, a few weeks ago, to get a match on between Joe Gans and Jimmy Britt, appears to have had a change of heart. Now, since Britt has shown such eagerness to meet the colored boy, Herford is coy and says Britt must take his chances.

Herford says he does not think Britt is sincere, and that Gans has dates filled until the middle of June. After that, Herford says, they may talk business, but the arranging must be done by the champion. It looks now as though no fight would be arranged before Gans goes to meet Buddy King of Denver at Butte, June 15.

Eddie Grancy has decided to referee the Gans-Tracey battle, and tonight will start for Portland. Grancy has of late become famous as a referee. He

NEW YORK, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The international match between "Toung Corbett" and Ben Jordan of England is under way. The San Francisco Athletic Club, through its representative. That the inducement is an enticing one is evident, for Corbett agreed to the incentive as soon as it was proposed.

the incentive as soon as it was proposed.
Several attempts during the past two years have been made to have Jordan come to this country, but to no avail. Jordan had a trying experience of coming to the United States to meet Terry McGovern, but had to return without a match. He has not forgotten this, and has always announced that nothing short of liberal expenses will induce him to visit America again. Corbett and Jordan, if they come to an agreement, will probably have it out at 124 pounds, weigh in at 3 o'clock on the day of the mill.

Rev. Dana Bartlett addressed the members of the University Ethical Club, members of the University Ethical Clue, at its regular monthly meeting last night at the home of Mrs. M. Burton Williamson, No. 1090 West Jefferson street, upon the "Ethics of Modern Charity." He argued that the modern idea of charity is coming to mean more and more not indiscriminate giving but the helping of men to help themselves, and, best of all, helping them to be themselves. The speaker described at length some of the great charitable institutions in the leading cities of the country, and declared that there will be better ways of helping men in the future than any we have known in the past. At the conclusion of the address, an informal discussion of the apaer followed, led by Dr. Milbank Johnson, ex-president of the club.

FIESTA PLOT AT A FINIS.

Failure of Linemen's Strike Makes Six Fizzles.

Agitators Losing Last Vestige of Power for Evil.

Local Boiler Makers in Precarious Position-Biddle Addresses "Mexican Wives."

The misguided electric linemen who allowed themselves to be yanked from a condition of prosperous industry into uncertain idleness by the Biddle-Hay-Gray clique of union agitators are themselves beginning to realize the magnitude of their mistake.

The unfortunate linemen are out, the electric companies are running along very well, and the sole result is a general upheaval of the labor ranks and irretrievable loss to the working dupes of the trouble-makers.

The fizzle of the linemen's strike marks the complete and ignominious defeat of the plot of the reigning circle of Council of Labor bosses to wreak havoc during La Fiesta and the visit of the President. It was not the fault of the President. It was not the fault of Biddle, Hay, Gray, et al. that the celebration was not estopped, the President numiliated by his hosts, and the municipality disgraced before the country, for the conspirators named exerted every ounce of their baneful influence toward inciting no less than six separate strikes at that critical period.

Each one of these movements has in succession rightfully failed of any measure of success, the defeat of the linemen closing the shameful entry in the city's industrial history.

Advance exposure of each move making up the entire conspiracy, the firm stand of the city's industrial pillars, and the instantaneous outburst of public sentiment against the villainous pro-ing up the entire conspiracy, the firm stand of the city's industrial pillars, and the instantaneous outburst of public sentiment against the villainous programme were responsible for so effectually counteracting the animus of the Council of Labor bosses. Their own members balked at the plot, refusing to go out, and the agitators have lost much of their vaunted power for evil. The Times is in possesion of the details of a complete conspiracy to burn out the great switchboard of the Huntington electric railway power-house, to paralyze the system by lawless violence. The plot was divalged by one of the handful of union conspirators, and the whole disgraceful story is told in an affidavit now in possession of The Times. This desperate act was carefully planned in connection with another attempt to secure revenge on Huntington, who has steadfastly and successfully resisted the despicable interference of the poon organizer, "Lem" Biddle, Boycotter Hay, Wifebeserter Rogers, Train-wrecker Knox of San Francisco and that lik. This closing failure of the linemen presents some peculiar and sad aspects. Many of the union members labored with all their might against the calling of the strike, being in need of the work and contented with conditions. The rabid agitators won the day for trouble, however, and inflamed a sufficient number of the workers. The result was that almost all the union men were forced out, and now many of these feel compelied to go elsewhere to seek work, having either lost their positions, or fearing the interference of the unon agitators and their former fellow-employés.

There was considerable of this movtheir surrender among strange people, and oftentimes thereby secure better positions at the expense of the city men still holding out or under the bun. The electric railway companies stated pesterday that they had all vacant places filed, and the telephone, lighting and power companies have passed the most critical period and will now gradually increase and perfect their new forces. The companies stood firmly by their first position, though operation of their systems was greatly jeopardized, and refused to make any concessions on what here.

BOILER MAKERS' CASE.
Union boiler makers of Los Angeles decided not to strike yesterday by a vote of 28 to 4, which was in accordance with the truce declared for fifteen days affecting the whole Coust division of the Southern Pacific. In spite of this thoroughly-promulgated postponement, the twelve boiler makers at Bakersfield quit work yesterday, and persuaded their helpers to cease work also. Bakersfield is the only point on the system where the men

REILLYITES RETURN.

LOCALS PLAY PORTLAND NEXT.
Capt. Charlie Reilly and his ball team returned yesterday morning from the North with one of the best performers of the aggregation laid upon the shelf for repairs. William Gannon, the hard-hitting right fleider, has been ill during most of the northern games, and the team has suffered considerably by his inability to participate.

Russ Hall, who played second base for the local Nationals on their trip, states that the grounds at San Francisco are small, but that the grand stand and bleacher facilities are excellent. A hit over the right-field fence back of first is good for only two bases, and many men are thrown out at the initial station on clean hits into the right garden. The space is so cramped that the fielders have comparatively little ground to cover and can come up within easy throwing distance of all parts of the diamond. According to Hall, "Buck" Weaver, the center fielder of the San Francisco Gnats, was thrown out five times Sunday on balls that ordinarily would have passed as clean base hits.

The Fortland Nationals will be at Prayer Park this week to play a series with the locals. They open Wednesday, though the schedule calls for a game today.

"Tacks" Parrott and Arthur Anderson will be familiar figures to local fans, both being members of the Portland team.

Thatcher and Quick are to pitch the opening game. LOCALS PLAY PORTLAND NEXT.

Al Neill Arrives. Al Neill Arrives.

Al Neill the shifty Fan Franciscan who is to clash with the Dixie Kid May 21 arrived yesterday alone. This was a surprise, as Dave Barry was to have accompanied him. Barry will come later. Neill expects to have an easy time with Dixie, but those who saw the clever tolored lad stop Charrille Thurston in two minutes last week are unanimous in saying that Neill will defeat a very tough customer if he beats the darky, and is quite likely to realize that he has been through a fight when the final gong rings.

Neill will train at the Lily symnasium on New High street, and is in fair condition now.

New Lands Attract. Many letters of inquiry are pouring into the local Land Office relative to the lands on the desert in this district which will be opened to entry June 15. These letters are from all parts of the country, and presage a large immigration to the new territory. The lands are sections 3, 7, 11, 19, 23, 27, 31 and 35 in each township along the Santa Férailroad from Mojave on the west to the Colorado River on the east. The even numbered sections have heretofore been subject to settlement and entry.

Gen. New Back from Alaska.

Gen. A. L. New, president of the Pacific Wireless Telegraph Company, now operating a successful line between White's Point and Santa Catalina Island, returned yesterday from a tripalong the northern Pacific Coast to Alaska. Gen. New has been absent over a month, and completed plans and arrangements for establishing numerous wireless telegraph stations, covering wide distances in the great northern coast territory. This is preliminary to the establishment of a transpacific wireless telegraph system, which the general and his associates confidently state will soon be a reality. Gen. New is quartered at Hotel Munn, on Olive street. He was ill in bed last evening. Ben. New Back from Alaska.

Stolen Horse Found.

The blooded horse and the rig stolen from the Mariborough stables on West Twenty-third street Friday night were returned to O. C. Carle, proprietor of the stables, yesterday, by the local police. The horse was found by a patroiman, hitched to the buggy and tied to a post at First street and Central avenue at 5 o'clock Saturday morning, and was placed in a livery barn. It was not known who the owner was, however, until yesterday morning, when a man who had read the story of the theft in The Times and knew that the policeman had picked up such an animal, informed Mr. Carle: There is no doubt that the thieves got fainthearted when they found morning overtaking them in their flight from the city, and decided to abandon the horse, and rig.

Rev. Plannette's Novel May Prove Literary Success if His Mind Does Not go to Pieces Before He Can Pinish

For some Kipling to tell, there is a strange story in the life of Rev. E. E. Plannette, a crazy preacher who was sent to the insone asylum yesterday. The man is making a desperate struggle to finish a book before his pitiless fate closes in on him and the door. He admitted that he did it, but said he was angry, not crasy.

When told tha he would have to go to the asylum, he cracked a joke about it. Oh, well." he said, "when I get there I will get the measies and break out."

The only condition upon which he would corsent to go quietly was that his wife should go too. She started for the asylum with him.

FIRST SESSION HELD.

The Juvenile Court, created by the last Legislature, had its first cases yesterday. Judge Wilbur presiding. One was the case of Mabel Brown who is sald to be mistreated by her grandmother, with whom she lives. She was awarded to the custody of Mrs. M. T. Boyd, a charity worker. The girl is 16 years old.

The other case was that of Emma Gordel, whose mother is in a hospital and whose father does not care for her properly. Her case was continued until today.

NERVY GREEK.

DEMANDS FREE SUPPORT.

If there was a medal offered for "nerve," the Supervisors would hand it to James Nohos, a consumptive Greek, who has come out here from Ohlo, and calmly announced that the people of this city must support him.

He has no possible claim on Los Angeles except that he is sick and he thinks the County Hospital here is a good place to be sick in.

A few days ago he put in an appearance at the office of the Associated Charities and said he had come from East Philadelphia, O., and wanted to be taken care of,
When he was questioned closely, it turned out that he had been recommended by a doctor to go to El Paso, and when he got to El Paso, they wouldn't have him there, and paid his fare out here to Los Angeles.

When they asked him what possible excuse he had for saddling himself on the people here, he seemed very much hurt, and said he was sick and that he ought to be taken care of. The fact that he has consumption seemed to him a complete argument for anything.

The managers of the association told

WHARF FRANCHISE. George Simon's application for a wharf franchise for some of the precious water front at San Pedro came up before the Supervisors again yesterday. As before, the railroads and the California Fish Company protested. Capt. Alfonso Smith, who represents the new Mexican steamer line which is to have a terminus at San Pedro, urged the advertisement of the franchise, as he wishes to be a bidder against Simon. The matter was referred to the District Attorney for enlightenment regarding the legal points.

Fred W. Eckert, the nervy thief who broke into the office of John Pullar, a Santa Fé division foreman, and stole a book of passes, was yesterday held on a charge of burglary by Justice Chambers, ball being fixed at $1500. Eckert was represented by a lawyer, but he put in no defense whatever. The passes were all signed and countersigned, it only being necessary to fill in a name and points between which it was desired to travel. Eckert's plan was to sell them for a nominal sum, but as it was all clear profit he was doing a paying business when picked up.

BOXALL-LITTLE-LLOYD.

The motion made by the attorneys for William Boxall and Horace Little, charged with assault with intent to commit murder, was heard by Judge Oster. The object of the motion was to have an early date fixed for the preliminary examination. District Attornay Sprecher presented a certificate from C. R. Lloyd's physician to the effect that some weeks must lapse before his patient would be able to attend court in the capacity of a witness, Judge Oster stated that it would be impossible in any event to hear the cases before July 1, and the Boxall and Little cases were set for that date in Department One. Mr. Sprecher asked that the case against Fred Lloyd, charged with the same crime, be set for the same time, and this was done without objection from the defendant's attorneys.

Everything is in readiness for the street fair, which will open tomorrow aftermoon.

Mrs. David Davis, arrested some time ago for violating the liquor ordinance, was convicted and fined 275 in the Justice Court. She thought the fine too much, so put up a $200 cash bond to secure her release while she appealed to the Superior Court. That tribunal affirmed the judgment of the lower court. Now Mrs. Davis goes to the justice and wants her ball money returned. He tells her he has applied that on the fine and moreover she still owes him 375. This Mrs. Davis refuses to pay, so is given a room in the City Jail. Yesterday the Marshal took Mrs. Davis to the County Jail, and while waiting for a car her husband, David Davis, appeared on the scene drunk, and peremptorily ordered his wife released. He persisted in his demands and was conducted to the cell in the City Jail which his wife had just vacated.

THE VIBROCHORD

VIBRATION, HARMONY, ELECTRICITY-These Are Life,

By harmony, we mean real harmonics. The Vibrochord produces all these. The harmonic drowsy tone which is surprising in its soothing sleep-producing effects and which with the vibration causes sleep to steal upon one speedily, a vibration which is the hum of the harmonics, not a violent unpleasant shake, but a powerful insistent movement which applied to the soles of the feet penetrates and harmonizes the entire nervous and muscular system. It can be applied with peculiarly beneficial effects to any part of the body with or without the electric current. The electric current is unlike that from Faradic batteries, interrupted by rhythmic harmonics, and even a strong current is thereby rendered agreeable to take. This instrument in its molecular harmonic vibration is remarkable in its effect upon nervousness, nervous headaches, insomnia, neuralgis, etc.

SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO. May 11.—Considerable dissatisfaction has been occasioned recently on account of the telephonic and telegraphic communication afforded here not being up to the standard of other places the size of San Pedro. There is no kick regarding the service rendered, but much inconvenience has been caused to parties desirous of sending messages in the evenings. The Western Union office closes promptly at 7 o'clock p.m., and unless something special turns up, no messages are received for transmission over its wires until morning. After 9 o'clock p.m., the local telephone exchange is closed, which leaves San Pedro entirely without communication with the rest of the world. Should anything of great importance to outside parties occur during the night it would be extremely difficult to communicate wifn them. San Pedro, with its vast amount of shipping and other growing industries, is believed to be in position to support an all-night or half-night service in the telephone and telegraph offices. Often vessels arrive during the night, and are inconvenienced on account of no communication, and there are other interests which suffer.

RESCUE TALK.

LORDSBURG, May 11.—Mrs. Chariton Edholm, the rescue worker among fallen women, spoke yesterday afternoon in the Brethren Church to a crowded house, describing in a pathetic manner the snares by which young country girls are entrapped to a life of sin and degradation. She was listened to with the closest attention, at times moving the large audience to tears. Mrs. Edholm paid a glowing tribute to Rev. Martin Shively, now pastor of the Brethren Church here, but formerly a co-laborer with Mrs. Edholm in temperance work in the north.

Among many tourists who arrived here today are Mrs. J. Hislop of Oshawa, Canada, and Mrs. James Campbell of Chicago, who are visiting their niece. Mrs. Frank Wheeler, at La Verne. They are accompanied by Dr. J. T. Campbell of Chicago. NOTES AND PERSONALS. SANG THE OLD SONGS.

Songs of many years ago were sung under unique circumstances at the Unitarian Church services Sunday night. O. S. Westover of Santa Monica, his brother, C. W. Westover, of Placerville, and their sister, Mrs. M. E. Young of Denver, Colo., sang a number of pieces from an old hymn book from which they used to sing forty years ago, when crossing the plains. It was the first occasion on which the three together had sung from the book in all the forty years. Mrs. O. S. Westover discovered the much-prized volume the other day when looking over some old possessions. The words of the hymns are set to the old-fashioned "buckwheat" notes.

In her sixteen years was touched upon by many of the apeakers. The "Quaker Colony," as it is called so many times, was started by the Pickering Land and Water Company, and when the town was staked out, in 1837, there was neither a house nor a tree on the entire tract. The first crop marketed by the colonists was a number of carloads of mustard seed, the tract being covered for miles with a luxuriant growth of the weed. From that crop of mustard seed the output from this section has grown to hundreds of carloads of lemons, oranges and wainuts, with the output from the oil field aggregating nearly a million and a quarter barrels of crude oil yearly. The coming of the electric road was also considered a subject for rejoicing, as well as the installation of electric lights and a gas plant. An unprecedented building boom, much street work projected, the improvement of the City Park, and a large increase in population were all given as facts for congratulation. The celebration was very successful throughout.

Thin Wool Dress Goods.

You are conversant with fashions and know that every authority on dress, for this season lays special stress on the uses of thin woolen textiles. It is not necessary to have silk drop skirts for most of the sheer materials look equally as pretty over a drop skirt of Yama Mai silk or some of the other higher grades of mercerized fabrics and the saving in cost would equalize what you would spend for a gown of the close woven textures. Among the scores of pretty weaves which are shown at Hamburger's in such profusion we specially desire to call your attention to the following well selected lines:

WHO ARE THE BOYCOTTERS?

Let the names of ROGERS, HAY and BIDDLE be embiasoned on the banner of unionism thrown to the breeze as the three arch enemies of stability in business, prosperity for the workingmen; peace and plenty in the home. The dastardly boycott they instituted against Hamburger's stamps them as cowards of the lewest type. But what of the 350,000.00 the National Typographical Union voted for prosecuting their boycott of the Times and Hamburger's? How much have they spent and how have they spent it? So far as Hamburger's are concerned, their efforts are all boomerangs, for our business has increased by 33 1-3 per cent, since the boycott was started eighteen months ago. At least a dozen methods have been tried to injure us—and the public have repudiated every one. From the gratuitous distribution of 20,000 copies weekly of the Union Labor News, to the regular issue of 3000, has shown that even the official organ cannot get the support of respectable Union men for such dirty work—the paying of $5.00 a day to women to make house to house canvass, has had no better results. Circular letters sent to our patrons have been on insulting to ladies who received them, as to call for public condemnation and protest to the goverament that the United States mails be not used for such purposes. Then again, these same circulars have brought us business, for we buy them at prices ranging from 50c to $50.00, and have now several thousand of them on file. No, Rogers, Hay and Biddle, we won't let the people forget you, but hold you up for the public excention you so righty deserve.

WITH ACCENTIATION OF ARNORMAL REALLY OF THE BACK AND SHULDERS.

In neck and shoulders and the upper part of the spine preases downward, and pushes the sternum, or breastbone, downward and inward. This means that the ribe are brought closer together, and that the entire trunk, or holiow box formed by the body, is greatly contracted. Thus the cheet and ribe are held depreased and contracted. The ribe can be lifted and brought into action the large muscular area necessary to raise the fifty odd pounds! weight pressing upon the cheet. For this a special and intentional effort is necessary.

POSTURE FOR RIGHT BREATHING A great deal is nowadays talked and written about proper breathing. Few, however, seem to realize that proper breathing is possible only when the entire throax, cheet, sides and back are free to expand with the inhaled breath and that this freedom is possible only when the carriage is such that the weight of the head, neck, shoulders and upper part of the spine is carried above and behind (see Fig. 1) instead of in a front of the chest cavity (see Fig. 2). The chest cannot be expanded without at the same time being uplitted. The result of constriction and immobility of the chest wails is first of all, to render proper breathing impossible to command the full power part of the throax "matic" breath. In the normal figure the spine is practically a straight line—that is, the posterior borders of the neck, chest and waist are on a vertical plane (see Fig. 2). The chest cannot be expanded without at the same time being uplitted. The result of constriction and immobility of the chest wails is, first of all, to render proper breathing impossible. which to function. If the entire trunk is collapsed and warped downward and inward (see Fig. 2) it means that these vital organs, instead of being upheld by their proper attachments in a position in which they are able to function normally, are lowered a distance of from two to four inches and so crowded and pressed together that their movements are seriously interfered with. Exactly what effect this prolapse and compression of the vital organs produces cannot at present be told. But that the effect is disastrous to that integrity of the vital functions which we call health cannot be questioned.

In the contracted body shown in figure 2 the lungs are pressed downward upon the heart, the action of which is greatly impeded. The pressure of the depressed breast hone and lowered ribs, which has so permicious an effect upon the functions of the heart and lungs, has an equally injurious influence upon the action of the abdominal organs. The stomach especially suffers from the conditions imposed upon it by the abnormal carriags. When the stomach is carried in its normal position the overloading to which it is so generally subjected, while undoubtedly injurious, does not have that far-reaching bad effect upon the health that is observed in many other cases.

IMPAIRMENT OF DIGESTION.

IMPAIRMENT OF DIGESTION.

In those cases, however, where the stomach is prolapsed and pressed upon by other organs, the overloading becomes a much more serious matter, Here the stomach and other organs of digestion can exert but little digestive energy, and a large proportion of the food, instead of being digested ond converted into assimilable materials, undergoes certain putrefactive changes, and becomes an active poison. The absorption of these poisons into the system is productive of a wide range of disorders, from simple headache or disniness to fatal "apoplexy," or "heart faiture."
